MARIN CITY'S HOME WEEKLY

VOL 1 NO. 49

MARIN CITY, CALIFORNIA

FRIDAY, JUNE 16, 1944

More War Workers Come To Marin City

A new contingent of war-working families was welcomed to Marin City last week. Majority of the newcomers hail from the south, but two of the new families are from the state of New York.

Incoming house dwellers are Mr. and Mrs. J. M. O'Neal from San Luis Obispo, House 425; Mr. and Mrs. John Campbell, from Oklahoma, House 766; Mr. and Mrs. John Laufer from San Rafael, House 510; Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Francard from San Francisco, House 70; and Mrs. Phyllis Tear from Washington, D. C., House 517.

Those moving into apartments here last week include Mr. and Mrs. Josh Jimmons from Louisiana, B6-613; Mr. and Mrs. Willie Smith, B6-615; Mrs. Leunice Roper from Texas, B6-610; Mrs. G. F. Harrison from Texas, A46-365; Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Coleman from Texas, B6-616; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Whytus from Texas, B6-614; and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Davis from Oklahoma, B6-622.

Others are Mr. and Mrs. Roy Brown from New York, B6-611; Mr. and Mrs. Louis Leone from New York, B6-612; Mr. and Mrs. John Carter from Colorado, B6-609; Mr. and Mrs. Jos H. Hutchason from Missouri, B6-618; Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Russell from Illinois, B9-666; Mr. and Mrs. George Hopkins from Watsonville, A41-321; Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Cox from Missouri, B6-624; Mr. and Mrs. Ford Babb from Sacramento, A46-366; Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Wilson from Arkansas, B6-620.

City Nurses Asked to Come Forward

Registered and graduate nurses now living in Marin City are invited to come to the Medical Center and see Head Nurse Iona Bellak if they are available for part or full-time work.

As the Center is always prepared to handle emergencies in the community, it keeps a nurses' availability list in case of sudden need.

This list is now depleted, announces Mrs. Bellak, who is urging all women who have this professional training to come in for an interview at the center.

Red Cross to Show Life-Saving Movies

A free movie evening, with three features on the Red Cross water safety program in action, will be held this Saturday, June 17, at 7 p.m. in the auditorium of the Community House.

All children in Marin City and their parents are welcome.

Registrations for swimming instruction and life saving courses to be held at Tamalpais High pool from July 17 to 29, will be taken after the show.

Last week, Marin City Councilman Jess Draper took over as manager of the County Baseball League. He is also manager of the All States, local teener team.

INVASION MAP

Invasion moves as depicted on the map above were planned to isolate German troops in fortified zones according to forecasts by military experts. How close those forecasts came to being right is now indicated by the actual invasion.

Red Cross Water Safety Free Swimming Instruction

The Red Cross swimming and life saving campaign this week announces its schedule for Marin City children and adults.

Swimming instruction will be offered by Red Cross instructors at the Tamalpais High School pool every day from July 17 to 29, inclusive.

Each person in the community may sign up for instruction periods on each or all of the 12 days of the offered course.

Here is the daily schedule:

- 9:00-9:30 a.m.—Boy non-swimmers, over 8 years.
- 9:30-10:00 a.m.—Girl non-swimmers, over 8 years.
- 10:00-10:30 a.m.—Boy beginners, can swim a little.
- 10:30-11:00 a.m.—Girl beginners, can swim a little.
- 11:00-12 noon—Boy and girl non-swimmers, 6 to 8 years.
- 12:00-12:30 p.m.—Housewives.
- 2:00-2:30 p.m.—Intermediate.
- 2:30-3:00 p.m.—Swimmers.
- 3:00-5:00 p.m.—Life saving.

The rules for participation in the free swimming and life saving instruction which is sponsored by the Marin County Chapter of the American Red Cross are:

1. All swimmers must take a shower.
2. Swimming caps must be worn by girls. Oil skin caps will do. If no cap is worn, a bandana must cover the head.
3. All cards must be signed by a parent or guardian.

Medical Care Letters Sent Out

Letters to all Marin City families which hold membership in the cooperative medical insurance plan, California Physicians Service, went out this week from the medical committee of the Marin City Council.

Plans for a reorganization of rates which may affect some of the town's larger families and their relatives, medical coverage guarantees, and how to best use the medical center were included in the letter's information.

Those who did not receive the bulletins, may get copies from the information desk at the rental office.

dian. (Cards are issued when appointments are made.)

4. Bring your own clean suit and towel.
5. No child will be admitted to the pool who has pink eye, boils, impetigo, running sores, ring worm or any illness or skin infection.
6. Please be ready for your class 5 minutes before starting time.
7. Do not leave money or anything of value in your pockets.

There is no charge for either the lessons or the pool. Each student must provide his own transportation to and from the pool. Buses, which go directly by Tamalpais Hi, can be taken from the Greyhound bus station here. The trip takes approximately 10 minutes.

Appeal For Farm Labor This Summer

Warren R. Schoonover, state supervisor of the Emergency Farm Labor Project, issued an appeal this week for volunteers for summer work on nearby farms.

"After an authoritative survey, we find that a serious labor shortage already exists and will increase as various crops mature," Schoonover said.

Schoonover gave as reasons for the labor shortage the fact that (1) experienced farm workers have been drafted, (2) there will be 12,000 less Mexican farm workers in the state this year than will be needed, (3) the armed forces will be occupied elsewhere as the tempo of the war increases and (4) because of transportation difficulties migrant farm labor is not coming up to expectations.

Schoonover said that the picture was further darkened by a complacency on the part of the general public in a fallacious belief that a food surplus exists because of the lifting of rationing on many food items.

Volunteer farm workers, those who can give their time on weekends and those who would like to spend their vacations doing farm work, are asked to talk with C. C. Talcott in room No. 3 of the Post Office building in San Rafael.

Council Looks to Future in Actions Taken Last Sunday

The Marin City Council looked to the future at its meeting last Sunday night, when councilmen voted unanimously to donate all remaining council funds to the Red Cross after the war is over and Marin City becomes a town of the past.

Eighth Grade Graduation Tonight

Fifty-six boys and girls will graduate from the eighth grade this evening in the first graduation exercises to be held in Marin City.

The ceremony will be at the Community House at 7:30 p.m.

Flowers have been arranged for the stage by Marin City's P-TA, and assisted by the Women's Club, this organization has planned a reception for the graduates and their parents in the lounge after the exercises.

The Marin City Volunteer Firemen have made a generous cash donation to the P-TA which is being used for this occasion.

Local Teeners Are Planning Big Program

The newly-elected recreation committee of the teener council is planning exciting entertainment for their club house, "399". Planned programs include game nights on Mondays with prizes, sound pictures of top name bands on Wednesday evenings, and sing sessions for Thursdays.

Committee members are Opell Pennywell, Lynn Draper, Bob Clark, Herb Holloway, and Willie Rombke.

Mrs. Earl James is organizing a committee of women volunteers to give the clubhouse a thorough cleanup job in readiness for the new program events.

Also coming up is a membership drive to recruit those who have not yet joined the young organization.

"There are undoubtedly many newcomers who have moved in since we opened '399'," said Alice James, club treasurer.

The council is planning an active campaign to inform young people that the club is open for memberships. Club dues are 25 cents per month, and membership cards are available to all teen-age residents of Marin City.

Boys Swimming Discontinued

Free swimming evenings for boys at the Tamalpais pool will be discontinued after this Wednesday, announces the recreation department.

The schedule is being supplanted by the Red Cross water safety campaign which offers instruction and life saving courses.

Applicants for the coming classes may sign up this Saturday evening, when a special Red Cross movie of its water safety campaign is being exhibited at the Community House.

Parents' permission for minors must be obtained for the course.

Presumably the last act of the local governing body will be the disposal of funds left over in its treasury.

But, although members looked toward the end of the war, they also concerned themselves with the present problems of the town.

A $10 revolving fund was set up by council to provide food for patients suddenly confined to the Dormitory infirmary. As the infirmary is not regarded as hospitalization, but serves as a convenience for convalescents who would otherwise deprive the family wage earner of work, meals are not paid for as part of the care there.

PONY RING

The house committee reported that plans for the pony ring to be installed on Marin City property have been referred to the Marin County Housing Commission for final approval.

Three new members for the medical committee were approved by council. They are Mrs. Harrison Abbott, Mrs. George Hinnenkamp, and Mrs. Louis Bright.

By-law technicalities were disposed of by the passage of a rule which will permit any member, who is sustained by another member, to demand a roll call vote on any motion.

Also passed was a new by-law definitely permitting the submission of a minority report from any standing committee.

MARIN CITIZEN

Plans for a big celebration in honor of The Marin Citizen's first birthday were discussed, and June 16 was set for the date.

The question was raised by Councilman Verne Lindburg about ownership of the community's paper. Michael Smith of the editorial committee, announced again that the paper belongs to the Marin City Council, and is a non-profit-making enterprise.

It was moved by Tom Roberts, and seconded by Mike Smith, that any member who becomes abusive in his language during discussion should be ruled out of order by the chair.

Extra Sugar For Canning Now Available

A maximum of 10 pounds of sugar per person may be obtained from the local OPA Board upon presentation of proper application forms.

These forms may be sent by mail or application may be made in person.

When application is made personally, it should be preferably between 10 a.m. and 1 p.m., Monday through Friday, as a special staff of clerks will be on duty at this period to handle canning sugar applications.

Forms may be obtained from Mrs. Edna V. Moore, 17 Princess St., Sausalito.

Batchan Will Supervise Play This Summer

John Batchan, local member of the Marin County Recreation Department, will devote full time to Marin City's recreational program starting June 15.

Batchan has had long experience with high school and college sports, and school teaching.

During the short period he has worked with the department as a part-time employee, he has won the confidence of all the children who play under his supervision, stated Mrs. Lois Nelson, director of the program here.

With Batchan on the job, June 15 will see an inauguration of a new playground schedule. Most daytime play will be outdoors in the children's playfield near the underpass. The schedule is:

Monday—1 to 6, playfield; 7 to 9, gym.
Tuesday—10 to 1 and 2 to 6, playfield; 7 to 9, gym.
Wednesday—2 to 6, playfield.
Thursday—10 to 1 and 2 to 6, playfield.
Friday—10 to 1 and 2 to 6, playfield; 7 to 8:30, gym.
Saturday—12 to 6, playground.
Sunday—1 to 5, playfield.

$84,529 Made Available to Marin County

A sum of $84,529 was allocated to Marin County for the development of post war public works projects in an appropriations bill passed Tuesday night by the state legislature. The sum granted to Marin is part of an appropriation of $10,000,000 made by the legislature to provide aid to the various counties for planning post war construction.

The funds appropriated by the legislature must be matched by like amounts made available by the counties.

There is approximately $125,000 in the county building fund, which can be drawn on if it is decided to use the sum made available by the state legislature.

Ant Poisoning Menace to All Children

Two cases of ant poisoning were reported to the Health Department by the Navy Doctor, it was revealed today. Two children had obtained cups which were placed by each of about twenty buildings at the Hilarita Housing Project by the Rose Exterminating Co. of San Francisco.

Each cup, it was estimated by the Marin County Health Department, contained a toxic dose. No provision had been made to keep the poison cups out of the hands of the children; children of the age affected are not old enough to read the poison label.

One of the children reported was not sick and probably did not consume the poison; the other was taken by ambulance to San Francisco where a stomach pump was used on it at a Naval hospital.

Bickle Joins Up

William Bickle and his family leave Marin City next week for Butte, Montana, where he will be voluntarily inducted into the U. S. Army.

Mrs. Bickle, who has been working in the local market, plans to stay in Montana with her daughter for the duration, December 8.

Square Dancing Revived in City For Enthusiasts

After nearly a month's absence from the community schedule, square dancing comes back this Monday night at 8 p.m. in the Community House.

From now on, square dancers will meet the first and third Mondays of every month.

One Monday each month, an orchestra will be provided by the local branch of the Marin County Recreation Department.

The new sponsoring committee is headed by Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Moore.

Everyone in Marin City is invited to come to the old-fashioned dance party and enjoy the free fun.

Casa Marin Will Open July 1st

Casa Marin, a new type of department store will open in San Rafael on or about July 1. The new store will occupy the entire retail store building on the corner of Fourth and B streets.

The new store will contain a women's sportswear department, a housewares unit, a circulating library and the largest furniture department in the county.

Casa Marin will be managed by George Williams of Mill Valley. Williams, a resident of Marin for many years, was formerly a buyer of home furnishings for the Emporium in San Francisco.

The interior of the store building has been entirely redecorated and fitted out to make it one of the most modern establishments in the area, Williams said.

Former Office Girl Now in Marine Corps

Elinor Owen, Pfc. of the U. S. Marine Corps Women's Reserve, was back in Marin City this week visiting her former co-workers at the rental office.

Private Owen has just completed her basic training and graduated from a specialist

Midgets Tie Fairfax Team In Close Game

By GLEN BISHOP

The Marin City Midgets last Saturday went eight innings and still had to call the game.

The game was with Fairfax, the only team that has beat us so far. Our score was tied, 5 to 5.

Ordinarily the games only run seven innings. After the game started it was plain to see extra innings would be necessary. In the second inning the umpire got his watch broken. He was umpiring behind the plate and got one on the mask. The next pitch was a fast one down the center of the plate, the batter struck at it, fouled it, breaking the umpire's watch. After another hit on the mask the umpire went out and called them from behind the pitcher.

Our first run came in the first inning. Then in the second we got another run. In the third and fourth the visiting team got two runs. The next runs came in the fifth, when we took another one-run lead. Score now was 3 to 2 in our favor.

In the sixth the visitors rallied and three runs came over. In the seventh it looked as if it was all over when we got two runs to even up the score.

In the first half of the eighth the pitcher got the visitors in one, two, three order. When the Midgets got to bat the first two boys went down in order. Walter Daugherty got walked. The next batter flied out to the second baseman, ending our game.

The pitcher for Fairfax was Olson, who is about 5 feet 8, and in the eighth grade.

Our pitcher was Pat Williams. Pat filled in for Lynn Roath who was absent. We will have to give Pat a good hand for this was his first experience in pitching a game.

He pitched a no-hit game for five innings. Pat is about five foot, seven inches tall, and is only 14 years old.

school in North Carolina. She is now assigned to the paymasters' division of the Marine Corps in San Francisco.

A ten-day furlough between graduation and assignment was spent with her parents at San Rafael.

Eager Youngsters Seek Out Pony Ring in Hills

Marin City children were quick to find the Pony Ring which is being built on the hill above houses in the 290's. Mr. and Mrs. Earl Larsen, managers of the ring, report that approximately one hundred children visited the ring the first Sunday, even though it was not yet completed.

The 41-year-old pony which delighted children and grown-ups alike on Marinship's Family Day, is there, but the favorite of the younger children for rides around the ring is "Pee Wee", smallest of the ponies.

It is as yet difficult to get to the ring, since no road, and barely a path, leads up to it from the main road.

Plans to have a pony ring on

Community Blood Donors Give Again

Marin City contributed 143 pints of blood June 9, when the Red Cross Mobile Unit visited the Community House here.

The schedule for the next six months has been confirmed, and the Red Cross unit will continue to visit Marin City on the second Friday of each month.

The next visit will be July 14. Other blood donor dates are August 11, September 8, October 13, November 10, and the playgrounds, or at the old site of the Greyhound Bus Depot are still under consideration.

Surprise!*Case of the Bouncing Tumor Discovered By Nurse Chick

Dr. Dick was waiting expectantly to see the case which Nurse Chick had promised him would be a patient with an ailment to end all ailments. Nurse Chick had said it with a twinkle in her eye—and that could mean almost anything.

He had spent the usual busy morning with so many patients to be seen and so many of them needing considerable time, thought, and treatment. Everyone, of course, was sure that his particular ailment was of the greatest possible importance.

Even to the little school girl who primly insisted on seeing the doctor and then showing him a healed three-day-old scratch!

TEENER AILS

Joe Tubb had been in with a new complaint. Although 15 or 16, Joe could have more things happen to him and have more things wrong with him than any six average youngsters.

This time it was a vague pain, the time before a twisted finger, or was it a stubbed toe? In fact, he was in every few days with something to be checked. Dr. Dick wondered if he were developing a case of examinatronitis.

Presently there was a knock on the door and Nurse Chick's pert cap appeared around the corner. "Your next patient, Dr. Dick," she announced cheerfully.

Turning, she ushered in a perfect mountain of a woman. "This," she explained briefly, "is Mrs. Dong who has a bouncing tumor." And with that, she quickly ducked out.

SURPRISE
Dr. Dick was taken aback, both by the appearance of the patient and the feeling that his ears had played him a trick.

Had he heard Nurse Chick say, "bouncing tumor"?

He started to question the patient who, to all appearances, was a prospective mother. To that suggestion she vigorously shook her head.

No, she insisted, she had been examined by a doctor back home a number of months ago and he had told her she was carrying not a baby, but a bouncing tumor.

INDIAN CASE
Dr. Dick continued questioning and learned that Mrs. Dong had lived in a state near an Indian reservation. Each time one of her babies arrived, an Indian mammy attended her.

In fact, all her children had benefited by this attention except the last one which was now nearly two years old. And that baby had been sickly ever since birth because it had been born in a hospital and attended by a doctor.

However, her faith in the medical profession was somewhat restored by the "bouncing tumor" diagnosis made by her home town doctor.

She knew he was right, too, because with all the other 15 she had never felt as she did now. In fact, she only had consented to come to the center because Nurse Chick had been so kind but persistent. People were behaving as though a bouncing tumor were something unusual!

LIVELY TUMOR

Dr. Dick listened with his stethoscope to the fetal heart beat. If this were a tumor, it certainly was one with a heart.

Mrs. Dong was adamant. She simply would not go to an obstetrician, and Dr. Dick could not persuade her she had any need to see one.

He called in Nurse Chick, who explained that the Medical Center plan does not include care of prospective mothers and that she must be under the care of some one since it was obvious she was soon to deliver.

Still the patient was unconvinced. She had her bouncing tumor and was not going to change her mind.

Only after contacting Mr. Dong and explaining the situation was Mrs. Dong finally reconciled to going to another doctor for examination and delivery.

JUST IN TIME

And none too soon! In just a few days' time, the Dongs were presented with a bouncing baby girl. Only then was Mrs. Dong convinced that her restored faith in doctors was unfounded—that doctor down home had fooled her.

But she was so appreciative of the kind interest and care she received from the Medical Center staff, that she gave them a living token of gratitude by naming the new-born baby "Chickie."

Women Needed For War Work With Red Cross

Women wanted! Come to the lounge room in the school building to sew for the Red Cross. There is much to do, it's important work, it's simple and easy.

Women who have sewing machines at home, may take the work away with them.

'Welcome Home' Sign Proposed For Golden Gate

Among the world's unsung returning wanderers is the seaman. Outside of a few romantic poets and a few port-side sharpers, little notice is given to the comings and goings of those who man the ships that sail the seven seas.

That day is past, if the San Francisco Junior Chamber of Commerce has its way. This week that organization proposed the construction of a huge neon sign on the seaward side of the Golden Gate Bridge. The sign would state very simply, "Welcome Home."

When last heard from, James Ricketts, general manager of the bridge, was looking into the feasibility of erecting such a sign. A maintenance scaffold on rollers gives only five inches leeway, the bridge engineers say.

Purpose of the sign mainly is to welcome home returning troops and other war veterans.

Teeners Say 'Goodbye' to Their Mayor

By ALICE JAMES

At the regular Friday night dance last week, Joyce Palmer and her brother, Bud, who are leaving town, were presented with gifts in appreciation for the work they had done for the Teeners. Joyce, as Teener Mayor, has been a leader in the Teener program ever since her arrival in Marin City. "Joe," as she is called by all of us, was influential in establishing the "399" Club. Under her direction we have had such activities as the formal dance, the weekly Friday night dances, the weiner roast, and many other special events.

Bud served as editor of the Teener publication "The Junior Herald." Joe and Bud will be greatly missed by the Teeners. We all wish them the best of luck in their new surroundings and hope that they will soon return to Marin City.

Because of the graduation exercises on Friday, June 16, there will be no Teener dance. The "399" Club will be open that evening from 8 to 11:30. On June 30 there will be a dance with a ten-piece orchestra.

The Teeners were glad to see Phil Mack, S/2, back in Marin City. He has been here

All States Star in First League Tilt

The Marin City All States took first blood in their league opening tilt at San Anselmo with a score of 3 to 1. Bob Foote starred for the All States by making two of his team's three hits, striking out 15 opponents, and holding the other team down to two hits, both by Culpepper.

It was agreed to play a 7-inning game because of the High School graduation, but it was all tied up one to one, at the end of the seventh. In Marin City's half of the eighth, Bill Murray hit a Texas leager into right field for a single. Stan Murray got all the way to second on an error, Murray going to third. With two away, Knudson lifted a high fly to the shortstop, who lost the ball in the sun, Murray and Foote scoring. The game ended when San Anselmo could do nothing in their half.

The All States play their next Sunday's game at Tam High, against Fairfax. Game time is 1:30 p.m. Marin City fans are urged to come out and give the boys a hand.

on leave from Camp Farragut, Idaho.

Bob Gruenwald, sports editor of the "Junior Herald", left Wednesday morning for a camp in the northern part of the state where he will work on blister rust control.

Mrs. Percy to See Her Sons

Mrs. Milton Percy left early this week to visit her two sons at Pacoima. One son, Seaman J. Herschel Cole, is in the U. S. Naval Hospital at Corona, and expects to get a three-day leave to see his mother.

The other boy, Lewis S. Cole, Jr., is living in Pacoima, near Los Angeles, and will be on hand to meet Mrs. Percy when she arrives there.

VICS FOR VICTORY

It pays to ask in The Marin Citizen, discovered the Volunteers in Community Service, who this week received a deluge of requests for work in response to a recent story.

The first request came from Civilian Defense asking the VICS to serve refreshments at the Sausalito Service Men's Club next Tuesday evening. Mrs. Everett Fitch, chairman of the CD committee in charge, will be out of town that night and suggested this work with CD paying the expenses.

Recruits were also gathered to work on the Red Cross water safety campaign. Helping to register the children were Mesdames Philip Strombom, Paul Behrendt, Dale Dinsmore, Earl James, and Harrison Abbott. Mrs. W. C. Billingsley reports 30 children signed up on Monday and Tuesday for the swimming instruction.

VICS BUY BONDS
VICS next responded to an appeal for helpers in the Fifth War Loan Drive, co-chaired by their president, Mrs. Earl James, and Al Babcock.

They started off the drive with a 100 per cent sign up for the purchase of bonds. Six hundred and twenty-five dollars was subscribed immediately at the Tuesday night meeting.

Plans were made to assist with the Marin City Booth at the Grape Festival which will be held in the county soon.

SURGICAL DRESSINGS
Mrs. Paul Behrendt stressed the great need for workers at Red Cross work rooms in Sausalito which turn out surgical dressings. Everyone is welcomed at this work which is held every Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

Refreshments were served by the hostess of the evening, Mrs. Harrison Abbott.

Grandparents and Grandson Join In Celebration

A birthday dinner was given last Sunday at Mr. and Mrs. Geo. D. Brasfield's apartment in honor of their son's first birthday, and the 34th wedding anniversary of Mrs. Brasfield's mother and father.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Wieser and daughter, Betty, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Leon, and Mr. and Mrs. L. Gianpaoli were their guests during the day.

Local Groups Get Chance to Help

Community service, like charity, should begin at home, suggests the recreation department which is asking all Marin City organizations to sponsor a social evening a month at the teener club house here.

Joseph Szigeti, renowned Hungarian violinist, and his violin.

Szigeti in Concert June 25 Five Events for Summer

Joseph Szigeti, internationally famous violinist, will be the opening attraction on Marin Music Chest's 1944 summer concert series, 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon, June 25, in Forest Meadows, Dominican College, San Rafael. Szigeti will replace Mozart's performance of "Marriage of Figaro" by the American Music Theatre, as previously announced.

It has been said of Szigeti that "this great artist probably knows more violin music than any man in the field." One matter on which music critics of two continents agree is the art of this Hungarian violinist.

CRITIC PRAISES

Olin Downes, noted New York critic said recently, "The public and the reviewers owe a debt more easily stated than described to a musician who can give us, as the fruit of a life work, such art."

Szigeti's first appearance in this country was as soloist with the Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra under Leopold Stokowski. Since then he has been acknowledged by fellow-musicians and the public of three continents as one of the greatest of living violinists.

He is an "international artist," having toured the world twice between May, 1931, and May, 1933. During 1940 he made 18 orchestral appearances, participated in 11 nation-wide broadcasts and appeared in recitals throughout the United States, Canada and Honolulu. The receptions accorded him everywhere by his followers shows his popularity and prestige to be at a high peak.

EZIO PINZA

Second attraction on the Chest's summer series takes place Sunday afternoon, July 23, also in Forest Meadows, and brings to Marin music lovers for the first time Ezio Pinza, world famous bass-baritone.

Through the generous response of the public, and the efforts of the newly formed Marin Music Chest "Junior Committee", a fifth concert for this season has been made possible. NOT PRECEDENT

"We want it clearly understood," stated Mrs. Berrien Anderson, head of the Chest, "that we are not establishing a precedent by offering a fifth concert on our 1944 summer series. We have taken in more money this year than any other in the history of the Chest, with the exception of the year 1940, and this, combined with the enthusiastic support of our Junior Committee, has made this extra concert possible."

Mrs. Larson Goes To Brush Up on USO Social Work

Mrs. Marie Larson, director of Marin City's USO Travelers' Aid Cottage, left town this week for a two weeks' refresher course on social case work being held at Lake Tahoe.

The summer conference is being sponsored by USO-TA for the western states.

During Mrs. Larson's absence, the office will stay open under direction of Mrs. Florence Fast.

Hedda Hopper: Looking at HOLLYWOOD

CLIFTON WEBB took one look at my head and snapped, "Where's that hat I gave you?" "I'm saving it for an occasion," I told him. "It's too beautiful to be worn to an interview."

Webb arched his eyebrows, made a gesture with a dripping hand to include the green marble bathtub, crystal bowls of soap and bath salts, and sea green marble walls and floor.

"If interviewing me in the bath isn't an occasion, I'd like to know what is. I would spend my first day before the cameras sitting in lukewarm water. Sort of limits me—"

We were on the set of "Laura," Twentieth Century's screen play of Vera Caspary's best seller, where Webb plays the acid-etched role of Waldo Lydecker—a combination of Cholly Knickerbocker and Alex Woollcott. The part fits him like his own skin. Lydecker is a raconteur, dramatic critic, and man about several towns. So is Webb.

Suds and Such

You never saw a bathroom like this one in "Laura" before—not even in the early De Mille's. It has a chaise lounge covered in leopard skin, and leopard skin chairs. I dropped down on the chaise lounge.

"Nice little place you've got here, Waldo" (sounds like a lap dog, doesn't it?), I told my Broadway pal.

"That's what Dana Andrews says when he comes to question me about Laura's murder," said Webb. "I love my reply—'It's lavish, but I call it home.'"

He went on to explain the psychology of his role, describing Waldo as "an original, a sybarite, a species of adder turned out by Sulka and Charvet."

All I could see of him was a naked wet torso above some green bath water.

"You're strictly from Mother Nature at the moment," I said. "Interviewers always write of your sartorial elegance. They rave about the set of your Homberg, the shade of your gloves. They say you're one of the 10 best dressed men in the world. But I can't write about your clothes today, and your skin isn't the kind I love to touch—it's too soapy!"

Blithe Spirit to Bath Salts

"As an old pal, you can say I'm clad in my right mind, can't you?" he wheedled. "In summer weather in New York, according to this script, this so-and-so Waldo wrote his articles in the tub." Then Webb veered sharply away from Waldo to say, "How many years have we known each other, anyway?"

We started figuring, and the names Mary Hay and Dick Barthelmess came up. Perhaps you

Sonoma Rodeo Full of Thrills For Everyone

By JACK MILLERICK

Plenty of thrills are in store for those who attend Sonoma Rodeo at the Millerick ranch on Sunday, June 25. Besides daredevil bronco busting, there will be an opportunity for reckless riders to try their skill in remaining atop Brahma steers when those animals get into action in dislodging whatever is on their backs. Brahmas originated in Southern Asia—and they can't be tamed. Jack Millerick, owner of the ranch where the rodeo is held, brought 50 Brahmas from Mexico recently. These steers are as wild as zebras and have the fighting tenacity of wildcats in the jungle.

'44 Ice Follies' Top Team

The fun and frolic of a circus, old-world pageantry and 18th century ballet, colorful and exotic oriental fantasy and a child's dream of a wondrous candyland all appear on the Winterland ice in San Francisco where Shipsteads' and Johnson's dazzling Ice Follies of 1944 opened on June 14.

Featured in the revue are Ruby Maxon and Bobby Blake, who are favorites of Ice Follies fans from past seasons. Winterland's management today urged that mail orders mailed to Winterland, Post and Steiner Sts., San Francisco, 15, would be a convenient means of securing reservations.

remember an inimitable dance Webb and Mary Hay once did. But you won't see a single dance step in "Laura." The Webb dancing shoes are packed away—have been for 10 years now. His hit in "As Thousands Cheer" was for his impersonations. They couldn't find a dancing partner nimble enough to keep up with him. After that producers capitalized on his brittle, humorous technique. They revived Wilde's "The Importance of Being Earnest." He was a natural for "The Man Who Came to Dinner."

Too Fast on His Feet

All this happened because nobody could keep up with his flying feet. That, too, is the secret of his unsuccessful go at Hollywood nine years ago.

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer signed

Webb at $3,000 a week to star in a film called "Elegance," the story of Maurice, the famous ballroom dancer, and Joan Crawford was to play Walton, his partner. But she couldn't keep up with him.

At Twentieth Century-Fox, where his present contract calls for one picture a year for five years at a plush salary, he frequently runs into a couple of other men who came to dinner, too—Monty Woolley and Laird Cregar. Webb has taken Connie Bennett's house. It's elegant.

We'd gotten this far when the camera had to reload, so I turned my back while Webb got out of the tub and into a bathrobe. "Laura" is a sure swing away from our grim past. Altogether it is an escape picture—escape into the dear dead luxury world of bygone days, with a good mystery to boot.

Hail, Donna Lee

Remember the little girl at the World's Fair who won a television contest? Her name—Donna Lee O'Leary. Now she's 16 and R.K.O.'s signed her to a long-term contract, dropped the O'Leary, and expects her to be another Deanna Durbin. . . . Dick Powell's signed a long-term contract there. . . . I hear Shirley Temple and Frank Sinatra will do Metro's new version of "Merton of the Movies"—re-named "Mary of the Movies."

Frederick Thompson:

Invasion Means That Hitler is Now Defeated

In all probability Hitler did NOT know the actual day of invasion and the signs point to the fact that he did NOT know the points of our first landings. The defense was NOT what it would have been had there been knowledge on the German side of these two predominantly important facts. But Hitler can be presumed to have known that the invasion would be made prior to June 21st, because the German High Command had chosen June 22nd to open their onslaught against the Red Army of the Soviet Union on that date and they had selected that date as being that of the longest day in the year.

Also, in all probability, it was in almost momentary expectation of invasion that Hitler was compelled to make his decision as to whether or not to defend Rome. He had not enough reserves to spare to look with any degree of ease at a situation in which he would be repelling an invasion in Normandy and defending even such a morally valuable possession as Rome with any degree of confidence. And he decided to abandon Rome. This must have been a very difficult conclusion to explain to the home front in Germany. It is not easy to boast about giving up what you have been so proud to boast about having obtained.

MORE THAN CITY

For Rome is more than a city that is historically important to a world conqueror. And Hitler has seen himself as a world conqueror to whom Rome would be the symbol of his power and magnificence. Mussolini or no Mussolini his plans undoubtedly contemplated Rome as a seat of his future greatness. The fact that we removed Mussolini only saved him the trouble of doing so at his leisure.

And so the fact of the invasion, for which this writer had been living in daily expectation for many weeks, forced his attention from a contemplation of the glory of our arms south of Rome and all the implications and conclusions that could be imagined or deducted from that event, to a point where there were so many things to think of at one and the same time that the result was almost awesome.

For indeed these two matters of the utmost military importance followed close, the one upon the other and each and both together are leaving in their wake a realm of interesting speculation.

INITIATIVE

We are told that there is nothing more valuable to a military high command than the freedom to elect where and when an offensive shall be launched. In other words the initiative as to time and place. One of the reasons is, of course, that the initiative gives the side that uses it the tremendous advantage of the element of surprise.

And Hitler has lost and can never regain, to any decisive extent, that, speaking militarily, inestimably valuable factor. Hitler will never dare weaken any front to mass such forces as will decide the issue on any particular front that he may select. He cannot probe for weak spots in the hope of exploiting them because he does not dare amass the congregations of men and material at any apparent weak spot, while his more and more limited mobile strategic reserves may be called upon to bolster or stiffen weak spots that the Allies have found and can exploit to the extent consistent with their relatively growing power. Hitler's ambitious far-flung front was formed for quick and decisive victory. It seems probable, also, that there will be tendency of the part of the Germans to draw back certain of their forces from the furthest outposts of their lines such as Greece and Norway in order to condense the defense of the homeland itself. It would seem that Rome was the unintended signal of that changed attitude. Rome may still prove to be an augury almost as important as the invasion itself.

Certainly it can be argued that the invasion fear forced the abandonment of Rome and that the abandonment of Rome is an acknowledgement by the German strategists that they must adhere strictly to the policy of defensive warfare.

Definitely, Germany's number is up!

Pepper Shortage Reflects Change Of the Times

A well known food company, which continues to sell door-to-door in spite of wartime shortages, recently sent the following letter to their salesmen:

"Yes, there is a lot of PEPPER at the factory BUT the OPA tells us how much can be sold each month and ONLY THAT AMOUNT can be sold, regardless of how many orders you have for pepper. Your quota of the allotment for San Francisco is two cans. NOT two dozen.

"We know it's tough, but there just isn't anything we can do about it. Please remember our quota arrives the first of each month and you will get your allotment immediately. P-L-E-A-S-E do not ask for more than your quota."

(Note: This will not cause any run on black pepper in Marin City because there isn't any!)

Typhoid Case Reported to Health Dept.

One suspected typhoid case was reported to the County Health Department, it was disclosed today by Doctor Irving Johnson. It is a great relief to Marin citizens to know that, if proven to be typhoid, the case originated and was contracted outside of California about one month ago.

Residents are therefore not endangered with the possible exception of the immediate family, the County Health Department explained today.

This case has no relation to the cheese-borne outbreak in California. No Ramona Dolce, Teleme or High Moisture Jack cheeses have been sold in Marin City, according to an inspection made a week ago. Only these cheeses are on the suspect list and they are not sold at the Marin City Store.

Merchant Mariner Summer Sessions Questions Honor Are Announced At Marin JC

A query about the Merchant Marine insignia on Marin City's Honor Roll was posed this week by William R. Cook, merchant mariner, now home while his ship is in a San Francisco drydock.

Cook displayed his insignia ring, showing an eagle with wings upspread in the shape of a "V".

The Honor Roll emblem is an anchor on a shield, surrounded by a silver circle.

The puzzle was unraveled by the Marin Sign Company, which decorated the plaque here. The painter said he had first checked with the Maritime Commission, which now operates all merchant marine vessels and personnel.

The maritime authorities stated the silver-encircled emblem is the official insignia for all cadets, seamen and officers in this government service.

The eagle emblem covers only those men who are merchant marines. To encompass all the men in the service, the broader emblem was used on the local honor roll.

The slight tiff ends with everyone right, just a misunderstanding about jurisdiction.

Actual Work On Post War Marin Plans

Twelve post war planning committees of the 19 total expected have been appointed according to a report made this week by Post War Chairman George Goheen at the Marin County Supervisors' meeting.

Goheen stated that at the present time the Marin Post War Committee has 125 members and that, that number is steadily growing. At the same time he urged that the residents of the northern and western sections of Marin increase their representation in order to insure just setting of projects for the entire county.

At the chairman's request the board agreed through the County Clerk's office to finance the mailing and secretarial costs of the committee, with the group's present secretary, Eugene Ostaggi, of San Anselmo, retiring to a more executive capacity.

Following are the 12 committees setup, each of which have a membership of from 10 to 15: Transportation, Samuel Gardiner, chairman; Highways, Siebert Sefton, chairman; Industry, Clyde Good, chairman; Sanitation, Charles Sloan, chairman; Recreation, Mrs. Norman Livermore, chairman; Schools, Ernest Jackson, chairman; Hospital, Betty Weaver; Housing, J. B. Rice; Re-employment, Charles Geller; Flood Control, William Nock; Airport, Lt. Col. Raymond Morrison, Hamilton Field designer; Publicity, Roy Brown.

Rosers' Travels

Louis J. Roser and his son, Donald, left last week for a 2-week vacation in Los Angeles and San Diego, where they will visit Mr. Roser's sister and sister-in-law.

Mrs. L. J. Roser and her daughter, Lois Jean, have just returned from a trip to St. Louis, their former home. Mrs. Roser's mother, Mrs. L. G. Platt has also returned to Marin City from Hutchinson, Kas., where she has spent the past nine months. The Rosers live in House No. 234.

YOU CAN CHECK SELLING PRICES WITH CEILING PRICES WHEN YOU SHOP:

Unless the housewives of America undertake this job of keeping prices within the legal ceiling, it will not get done. The OPA is able to employ only about 1,100 paid food investigators. They cannot possibly cover the 600,000 food stores of the nation. But the housewives CAN! The housewives are already visiting the food stores every day in every community. The housewives can check the prices and do it while they shop.

When the call goes out for help with rationing, millions of women offer their services. The rationing program could not be carried through without their help. Now the great need is for volunteer help with the checking of retail prices in order to make sure that we have complete compliance in every food store.

If prices are NOT checked, by the housewives, on every article purchased, if we do not have compliance with the price control regulations, what is the result? The entire cost of living rises, black markets flourish, the war is lengthened and inflation is upon us. We cannot let this happen, the future of America must have stability and security. The housewives who do our purchasing will give price control true meaning as they go about this all-important business of feeding the nation.

Do not hesitate to notify your Ration Board in Mill Valley if you find any merchant charging more than the ceiling price for any article. You just write them a letter and they investigate without revealing your name to anyone. It is the duty of every housewife to report any store charging more than ceiling prices for food, meat, vegetables and all other foods and staples.

SUGAR FOR CANNING: Homemakers will have about the same amount of sugar for home canning as they did last year. The first dividend of five pounds of canning sugar may be obtained by using Sugar Stamp No. 40 in War Ration Book Four. In addition a maximum of 20 pounds more per person may be applied for at home-maker's local ration board at any time after March 23. The whole home canning sugar transaction may be handled by mail this year. First the consumer sends for OPA form R-323 which is the application for extra sugar. On this she writes her name and the names of the persons at the same address for whom she is requesting sugar and the number of pounds of sugar needed. To the form she attaches a spare stamp No. 37 from War Ration Book No. 4 for every person whose name is on the application. This is for purposes of identification. If the board approves the application, it will mail coupons or certificates for the sugar to the homemaker. Later she may apply for more if necessary.

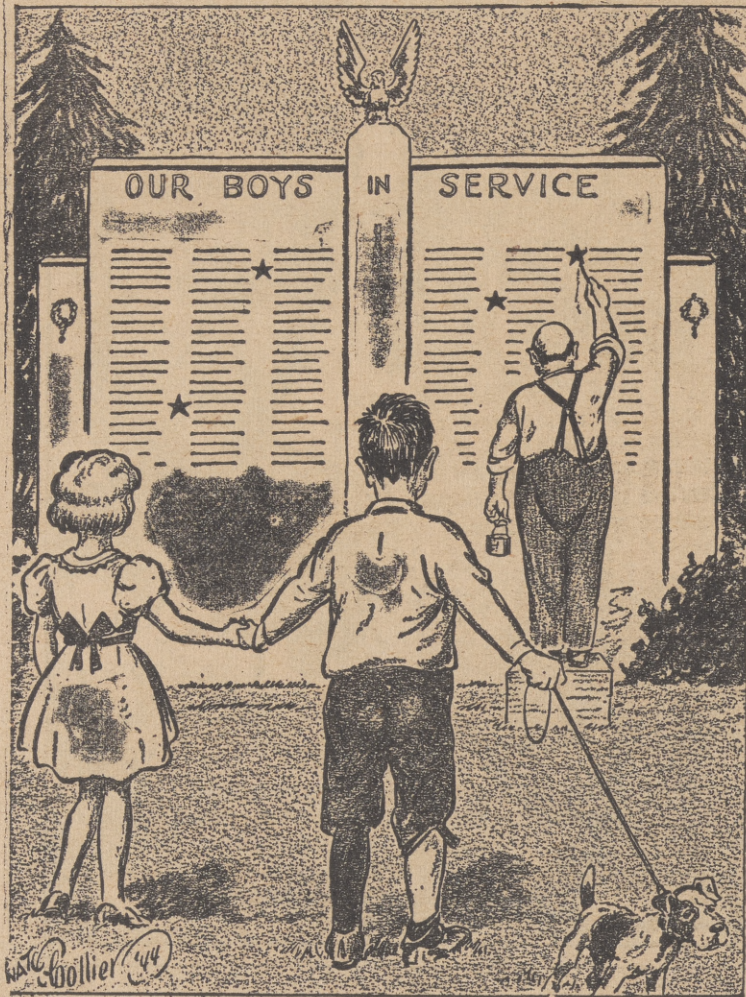

For rationing information, telephone Sausalito 675 and ask for Mr. Sneve or Miss Roberts.

P-TA will decorate the stage for the school graduation here, June 16.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. James were surprised this week by a visit from an old hometown friend, Pvt. Warren Peterson of Wilmar, Minnesota. He has been stationed at Camp Roberts, and is now on his way to a camp in North Carolina.

Signup Begins in Marin For All Victory Gardens

Victory gardeners, who feel they have reached a high degree of production, proper arrangement and practical value in their gardens, may now contact their local Civilian Defense Victory Garden chairman to enter their garden for judging during next week, according to Mrs. Harold Elliott, Marin County Victory Garden chairman. Judges will visit the gardens during next week but will not announce their final decision until the Grape Festival, at which time presentation of awards will be a part of the Victory Garden Harvest show, which is being arranged by the county chairman.

Mrs. Helen Van Pelt, well-known Marin woman, Herman Hein, who has served as gardening instructor for some time, and Ian Campbell, San Mateo County Department of Agriculture representative, will serve as this year's judges.

Following are the local chairmen who may be contacted at any time to insure inspection of gardens for the 1944 awards: Mrs. W. Newman and Herman Hein, Mill Valley; Mrs. William Bresnahan, Sausalito; Mrs. Louis Lamb, Corte Madera; Frank Kirby, Larkspur; Mrs. J. N. Raymond, Mrs. Milton Tonini and Mrs. Forbes, Ross; Mrs. Paul Romer, San Anselmo; Mrs. Burton Paine, Fairfax; Mrs. L. Buzine, Novato; J. W. Haynes, Mrs. E. B. Gearhart, San Rafael; Miss Eloise Mays, schools; Mrs. Edna Wessel, Tiburon; Mrs. Hall, San Quentin; Mrs. Maxine Pepper, Bolinas, and Mrs. Thomas L. Drew, Inverness.

Mrs. Elliott also had favorable reports from various sections of Marin regarding Victory gardens. In Yolanda the commun-

In San Rafael, Miss H. H. Jackson and Mrs. Jack Barnes report that they have already harvested 12 kinds of vegetables. George Whiteley, taking time off from his various activities, has an entire lot in vegetables which are producing. Mrs. John Harden has converted her front yard into a Victory garden, and the latest additions are white carrots. Frank B. Wilkie, turning to more exotic styles, has terraced the hillside near his home, and is now operating a large scale vegetable garden. Miss Sylvia Hildebrandt, winner of the silver cup for her vegetables last week at the 4-H meet, is continuing her work.

In Mill Valley, Police Chief Jim McGowan has one of the outstanding Victory gardens of the county, according to Mrs. Elliott.

New Barber

William Varien, former Marin City Barber Shop operator, is now managing a new establishment at Camp Beale. Replacing him here is John Apostol who formerly operated at Letterman Hospital. The change took place June 1.

Marin County Horse Show On July 9

For the first time in many years all of the horse owners, riders and fanciers in Marin County will gather on Sunday, July 9, for a day of exhibits, contests and games.

Tentative plans, according to Bert Montgomery, president of the Tamalpais Trail Riders and Capt. Norman Canziani, chief of the Marin County Mounted Sheriff's Posse, call for a horse parade starting at San Anselmo and ending at the Smith brothers ranch beyond Manor. Following the parade, Montgomery and Canziani said, there will be horse exhibits, contests and stunts.

"The affair could properly be called a 'gymkhana' on horseback," the two men said. "It will be a day for all Marin County horse people to gather and participate in equestrian sports."

There will be no entrance fees or charges to participants and no admission fee will be made for those who just want to watch. Everyone is invited to take part.

Child Care Ban In Marin City

Private child care by individuals living in Marin City has been forbidden by the State Fire Marshall, it was reported at last Monday's meeting of the county board of supervisors.

County Welfare Director Frank Eastman stated that he had sent communications to nine persons to cease such child care. Reason for forbidding the private child care is the fact that Marin City houses have only one entrance and are a fire hazard.

Book Review:

"Road to Teheran" is Story of Russia and Us

"THE ROAD TO TEHERAN"
The story of Russia and America, 1781-1943, by Foster Rhea Dulles (Princeton University Press, 1944. 279 pp., $2.50).

Sold at Paul Elder's Book Store, 239 Post Street, San Francisco.

Reviewed by EDITH HOFMANN

"The one nation may be following a road marked 'capitalism,' the other a road marked 'socialism,' but the final destination in each case is a social order in which a decent livelihood, personal dignity and lasting peace can be assured for the common man." . . . These are the words of the Author Dulles as his book draws to a close. It is a remarkable book in many respects. It is valuable for the historian as well as for the layman as it is the opposite of an emotional book. Everyone of us who has not read this history of the relations of the U. S. S. R. and the U. S. A. since the latter became an independent nation, should not really feel entitled to talk about "these post-war plans."

On August 27, 1781, a young American, Francis Dana of Massachusetts, arrived at the Russian capital of St. Petersburg. . . . "His mission was to seek recognition for the United States from the Empress Catherine II . . . from that day on there was something like a relationship between these two nations and as the author traces it through the decades and centuries we see that Russia and the United States have an excellent record of good relations. There was never a war between the nations, and the only thing that came nearest to it was our intervention at the time of the Russian revolution.

There followed the time of the great Russian loneliness, where we steadfastly held to the conviction that we should not recognize the Russian Bolshevik regime, as it had gotten into power through revolution. Though this may be strange for a nation that has won its own nationhood through a revolutionary war and an insurrection, Dulles shows that America's suspicious attitude toward the Soviet regime was in reality not so much influenced by the notion, that the Bolsheviks did not represent the Russian people or did not give them the liberties so essential for a democracy like our own or England's, but by the very real fear, that in recognizing their government they might encourage Communism in this country and thus undermine the Capitalist structure of America. Dulles gives an excellent description of the time of the great RED SCARE in our twenties. The same people who were so convinced that Capitalism was successful and could perpetuate unending prosperity were strangely enough the ones, who were very concerned and afraid that Communist propaganda might undermine that very economy.

Though times have changed and the American people today have won a new and more discriminating attitude toward the Soviets and the Russian people there are two quotations in Dulles book which seem to give the answer to those people who wonder: "What about a Communist menace in our country?"

One is from a professed believer in private enterprise and at the same time admirer of the Russian system—Wendell Wilkie; the best answer to Communism is "a living, vibrant, fearless democracy—economic, social and political." The other is from a Russian Communist, who was of the opinion, that "Revolutions cannot be imported in trunks" . . . in other words he means, that no revolution can be "made through propaganda, unless certain conditions prevail. As the social, economic and political supposition, that brought forth the Bolshevik revolution after the last war, had no parallel whatsoever in U. S. A., there should have been no fear of a like revolution . . . he concludes.

Ambulance Service for Emergencies

In response to numerous queries about emergency transportation in case of illness, "The Marin Citizen" this week discovered Sausalito's ambulance service.

The ambulance is reached through the Sausalito Fire Station, phone 19, and is under direction of Matt Perry, assistant fire chief.

It was turned over to him by Frank Keating, who is now serving in England with the U. S. Army.

Published fees are from here to dormitory infirmary, $5; to Cottage and Ross hospitals, $10.50; to San Francisco, $12.50.

The ambulance transportation is not covered by residents' CPS medical insurance.

Because of a shortage of drivers, residents are urged to call the ambulance only in cases of acute emergency and only after making sure that no other transportation facilities are available.

ning July 3 through July 15. Announcement of the course was made by Mrs. Beth Kaufman, Water Safety chairman.

According to a statement which appeared recently in "The Masthead," official publication of the Navy's Treasure Island base, 75 per cent of the deaths in the present war in the Navy are due to drowning. To counteract this appalling statement, the American Red Cross, for the past four years, have wrestled with the problems of making hundreds of thousands of fighting men seaworthy to some degree before they are shipped out to theatres of war.

Salute Old Glory!

From overseas comes stirring invasion news — the Army of Liberation inching its way over blood-drenched soil to free an enslaved people, to stamp out tyranny and persecution.

Above the foreranks of marching heroes floats Old Glory, symbol of the liberty and freedom for which they fight and die.

And while the Stars and Stripes inspire our brave warriors in their grim struggle on foreign ground, we in America paused this week—on Wednesday, June 14—to observe Flag Day, a day dedicated to the nation's banner and for what it stands.

Let us mark the occasion with due solemnity and serious contemplation. Let us rededicate ourselves to the ideals for which Old Glory stands—the ideals—for which our boys fight on in Hitler's Europe.

Justice, equality, liberty. For this does Old Glory stand. For this are men fighting and dying around the globe.

And while the battle rages, let us here at home pledge ourselves to the defense of these rights, for what good will it do to win the war and lose the peace on the home front later.

Not only must we live true to these ideals, but we must guard against those native crackpots who would crush them with the hate-mongering tactics of our enemies. We must guard against those who preach hatred against Jews, or Catholics or any other religious or racial group. We must recognize such preachments for what they are—the work of traitors.

Above all, let us utilize the spirit of Flag Day as an occasion for renewing our loyalty to the Stars and Stripes—to "one nation indivisible, with liberty and ustice for all."

Take It Away, Boys!

By COLLIER

Races of Mankind Freedom From Fear Will Banish Prejudice

Nevertheless there is race prejudice in America and in the world. Race prejudice isn't an old universal "instinct." It is hardly a hundred years old. Before that, people persecuted Jews because of their religion—not their "blood"; they enslaved Negroes because they were pagans—not for being black.

Looking back now, moderns are horrified at all the blood that was shed for centuries in religious conflicts. It is not our custom any more to torture and kill a man because he has a different religion. The 21st century may well look back on our generation and be just as horrified. If that century builds its way of life on the Atlantic Charter—for the whole world—our era will seem a nightmare from which they have awakened. They will think we were crazy. "Why should race prejudices have swept the western world," they will say, "where no nation was anything but a mixture of all kinds of racial groups? Why did nations just at that moment begin talking about 'the racial purity' of their blood? Why did they talk of their wars as racial wars? Why did they make people suffer, not because they were criminals or double-crossers, but because they were Jews or Negroes or non-Nordics?"

We who are living in these troubled times can tell them why!

Today weak nations are afraid of the strong nations; the poor are afraid of the rich; the rich are afraid they will lose their riches. People are afraid of one another's political or economic power, they are afraid of social rejection.

Conflict grows fat on fear. And the slogans against "inferior races" lead us to pick on them as scapegoats. We pin on them the reason for all our fears.

NOT INEVITABLE

Freedom from fear is the way to cure race prejudice. When aggressions like those of the Axis are made impossible by guarantees of collective security, those guarantees must cover countries of all races. Then Nazi race tactics will be outmoded.

In any country every legal decision that upholds equal citizenship rights without regard to race or color, every labor decision that lessens the terror of being "laid off" and gives a man self-respect in his employment, every arrangement that secures the little farmer against losing his acres to the bank—all these and many more can free people from fear. They need not look for scapegoats.

The Russian nation has for a generation shown what can be done to outlaw race prejudice in a country with many kinds of people. They did not wait for people's minds to change. They made racial discrimination and persecution illegal.

The Russians have welcomed cultural differences and they have refused to treat them as inferiorities. No part of the Russian program has had greater success than their racial program.

In the United States a considerable number of groups are working for democratic race equality. To mention only a few:

The China Institute is active in promoting the work of Chinese students here; the Phelps-Stokes Foundation has brought many African students here; the Council Against Intolerance in America has a continuous program in the schools; the Council on Intercultural Relations has done much to emphasize the Negro's contribution to American culture.

The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People arranges publicity and fosters public education.

Many church bodies have done much to help people realize that ideas of race superiority or inferiority are un-Christian. Church bodies of all faiths have encouraged education for tolerance.

Many trade unions have helped with this job of education for tolerance. When racial discrimination has appeared among certain trade union bodies, it has been other trade unions and their leaders who have been first to criticize these intolerant practices.

The government, through the Fair Employment Practices Commission, has taken steps to eliminate discrimination in employment in plants with war contracts. This commission was established by an executive order of the President.

In Houston, Texas, the mayor and a group of prominent citizens recently advertised in the local papers that no disturbances against Negroes would be tolerated. The statement began with the statement, "Don't do Hitler's

THE SOAP BOX

By THE EDITOR

We've never said anything about the merchants who advertise in the columns of The Citizen. This has been a mistake, for without the advertisements of Marin merchants there could never have been a Marin Citizen.

The Citizen has been in existence for almost a year now. From the very beginning the merchants of the county saw in The Citizen a valuable medium through which to send their message to Marin City residents.

Week after week the merchants of the county have been welcome visitors in the homes of all Marin City residents. They have been a part of the community's newspaper.

Over a period of time we have come to know many of the businessmen who advertise in The Citizen and have grown to respect their war-time problems and to enjoy passing the time of day with them. They are much like merchants the country over, with the same friendly approach to life in general shared by merchants in every section of the land.

We know that readers of The Citizen have also come to know the merchants whose advertisements they have read. We know that Citizen readers use the columns of the paper as a shopping guide of merchants who wish to serve this war-time community. It has been sort of a mutual benefit with both parties.

Next time you go into the store of a merchant who has advertised in The Citizen, tell him that you have seen his message and have been pleased with it. That's a good way to build friendly feelings between our town and much of the rest of the county.

Yulapa was the name given by the early Indians to the Golden Gate. It means "place where the sun plunges into the sea." The name Golden Gate has no relation to California's golden treasure. According to General John C. Fremont's memoirs, he named it "Chrysopylae" or "Golden Gate" for the same reason that the harbor of Constantinople was called Chrysoceres or the Golden Horn. The Golden Gate was named by Fremont in 1848.

With America's great tradition of democracy, the United States should clean its own house and get ready for a better twenty-first century. Then it could stand unashamed before the Nazis and condemn, without confusion, their doctrines of a Master Race.
